You will get this lovely form where you can choose which fields you would like to modify. If you would not like to modify a field simply leave it empty. At the bottom you can then choose to either update the product with the new information, or delete it. You can then check that product by searching it in the search bar in the header.

We now want to add a product, so we will navigate to the add product page.

Feel free to enter any product of your choosing, and the information with it. Then check if that product now exists by searching for it or browsing all products.

We have now heard that a user by the username of dan has been causing trouble on our site, and posting bad reviews that are false. We can find him in our database by going to the search user page and typing in the username dan. We can ban him by clicking on td element under Banned 1 means they are banned 0 means they are not banned. Click on that element, and ensure it is a 1 so they are banned. Also ban the user you created in the user walkthrough so you can check that banned users can not login.

We now need to delete all his nasty comments so click on his first name to view all his comments.

Delete Comment	Review Date	Description	Product ID
X	2018-12-01	asdf	1
X	2018-12-01	boooo	1
X	2018-12-01	fake news alert	2
X	2018-12-01	are these seeds made in china???	8

Now click on the x in the Delete comment column to delete that comment. This is great so that your products only have positive reviews.
